

COURSE >>

Chinese Culture and Texts

Course Description

The course is aimed at an in-depth analysis of Chinese culture through discussions and interpretations of carefully chosen texts from Chinese mythology, philosophy and literature. Beyond general knowledge, the course will provide deep insights into the core values of Chinese culture, especially the moral quest and unique life views of Chinese people. Hopefully, the insights provided in this course will help students sharpen and broaden their recognition and understanding of Chinese culture for the ultimate better exchange between East and West. All course texts are available in English, so Chinese language proficiency is not a prerequisite.

Assessment of students' performance will be based upon their attendance and participation, the quality of their presentations and written assignments, and their scores in the final exam.

Date(s)/Time(s)

Monday, 4:10 – 6:50 pm

Location

594 Baldy

Course Details

- LAI 544
- Fall 2017 Registration #22774

Instructor

Dr. Bo Yang
 Visiting Professor,
 Department of Learning and Instruction
 Email: byang4@buffalo.edu

Visit: gse.buffalo.edu/lai